HIGH GRADE STEERS

PIG GREEN

Bring Forty Dollars More Per Head. Took a Shot At Another Negro on Main Street.

Washington, April 3.—That it pays to raise good stock is illustrated by the experience of two Utah ranchmen who sent their steers to the same market on the same day. Both ran their stock on National Forest range under grazing permits, both used the same amount of range per head of stock, and both paid the same grazing fee. One gave close attention to the selection of his breeding cows and used only high-grade bulls. The other made no effort to improve his herd. The owner of the high-grade stock received $40 per head more for his steers than the owner of the common stock.

On some of the National Forest ranges the stockmen club together, it is reported, and buy high-grade bulls which are owned as community property. Since the administration of the Forests in the hands of the Department of Agriculture, naturally there is a desire to encourage the use of good breeding stock and to eliminate the scrubs.

We are making a specialty of our Flat work department and at the very reasonable prices we charge for this class of work you can't afford the home washing way.

Pig Green and Charley Thomas, two negroes, were standing on the corner of Main and Tenth street at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Green without seeming provocation snatched out a pistol and fired it in the direction of Thomas at close range, but did not hit him. Thomas dodged into the doorway of the Yost store. Deputy Sheriff Ed Jones was standing near and covering Green with his pistol put him under arrest and made him give up his pistol. Green is a well-known police character and has served a term or two in the penitentiary. Thomas is a frail, sickly negro.

Old English Lotteries.
On October 18, 1826, the last "state lottery" was drawn in England. From the time of Queen Elizabeth lotteries had been common in this country, and at the close of the eighteenth century they had become established by successive acts of parliament and were considered by chancellors of the exchequer as perfectly legitimate means of increasing the revenue. Indeed, at the time they were abolished lotteries were contributing to the state a sum amounting to £200,000 per annum. But it was felt that the government should no longer participate in an undertaking which had such a demoralizing effect on the people, for this legalized gambling impoverished many and diverted attention from the less exciting pursuit of making an honest living.—London Chronicle.

APRIL FOOLED

Bethel Girls Steal March On Their Teachers, Saturday

Saturday morning while the dean, Mrs. Eager, and the assistant dean, Miss Lindsay, were getting their "beauty sleep" twelve of the Bethel girls ran away from the college for a day's outing in the country.

Various ways for escape had been arranged and after breathlessly treading the planks of Bethel corridors they met at the corner of 17th street and Canton Pike. From there they made their way to the first bridge and out across to Cox Mill road.

While the "Braves" were enjoying a most bountiful breakfast on the road-side, the "Fraud-Cats" were devouring their usual oatmeal, "sky juice" and "Zip."

Most of the morning was spent visiting friends along the way and about noon they reached the farm of Dr. Wallace. This gentleman they found to be an ideal host and there they remained until the middle of the afternoon.

They had grown a little tired and were beginning to dread their return home when they saw a hay wagon coming, not knowing that it was meant for them. They rushed out and asking the driver to take them to town found that Mr. Rictor had sent the wagon for their use.

A most enjoyable day was spent by all and no regrets have been expressed, in spite of the fact that the trip means "30 days" for them. The party consisted of Misses Elizabeth Bassett, Ruth Taylor, Mary Clay Gilliland, Francis Liddon, Mary D. Claypoole, Elizabeth Haynes, Florence Brainer, Elizabeth Harris, Madeline Smith, Maynet Hollinsworth, Virginia Glover, and Alice Allen. Misses Eugenia Reeves, Maude Arlington and Jessie Rector joined them later in the day.

BASEBALL SATURDAY

Locals Have Easy Victory Over Earlington High School.

The High School team defeated the Earlington High School by the score of 10 to 2. The Earlington bunch were unable to hit the good pitching of Capt. Higgins and Lackey. All of the local infield were suffering from sore arms and as a result several double plays were missed that should have been gotten. The base-stealing of the locals was the feature of the game, there being 14 bases stolen during the game by High School.

A very poor crowd was out to see the game. Only twenty-four persons paid admission at the gate. The small crowd was probably due to the lack of advertising, but it is hoped a much larger crowd will be out to the next game.

PLEDGED 100 ACRES

The Christian County Strawberry Growers' Association Organizing.

The Christian County Strawberry Growers' Association was organized at Pembroke, Ky., last week with a large enrollment of members who pledged more than one hundred acres of berries. The officers and directors were elected and are all hard at work preparing for the crop which is to be planted within the next two weeks. They are all enthusiastic over the prospects for a very successful business enterprise, and may be depended upon to handle the affairs of the association intelligently and for the very best interests of those whom it represents.

The land in that vicinity is said to be well adapted to the industry and quite an extensive enterprise is expected to be developed.—Farmers Home Journal.

CARD OF THANKS.

Ned Meriwether Camp, U. C. V. Hopkinsville, Ky.

Please accept our sincerest thanks for your kindness shown us in our dark hour of trouble, in the loss of our father, Mr. D. A. Tandy. The love he had for each of his old comrades, makes them all so dear to us, and comforts us the more since we have carried out his last request that he should be buried in his uniform by his U. C. V. brothers. He often said "I wonder who will be the next." God grant that each of you may be with your loved ones for years to come, but when one by one each shall go may the parting be temporary and the meeting eternal.

With our deepest gratitude, we are
Sincerely,
HIS CHILDREN.

Dispensation of Providence.
C. B. Sanders, a negro cotton picker, who lives near the little town of Empire, Ga., woke up at midnight with a yell to find that his warm bed was occupied by a large, fat 'possum. George was badly scared, not knowing at first that it wasn't a rattlesnake or a willowampus. When he got a match and lighted the kerosene lamp he beheld Brer 'Possum curled up in his blanket. "I reckon de Lord has sent you, an' here you's gwine ter stay," he remarked as he seized Mr. 'Possum by the tail. Next day George and his family had a feast of baked 'possum.
